Italian Made
Artigo Rubber Floors

Sustainability has always been an extremely important part of the Spectrum Floors credo.

That's why we've searched the world for low-maintenance, environmentally friendly flooring solutions for commercial and residential buildings Australia-wide. We are proud to introduce the rubber flooring range from Artigo (formerly "Mondo").

The Artigo collection with an exceptional aesthetic variety and a continuous quest for innovation, Artigo offers a true design culture, characterised by a wide variety of types, unique solutions and the highest degree of customisation. The continuous technological research of Artigo is the expression of a culture that reflects the constant attention that the company devotes to the evolution of architecture and design. Artigo produces a continuously growing collection, in which the design research aims to create new proposals that will enable architects and designers to interpret the rubber flooring with great originality.

Spectrum Contract Rubber Flooring is widely used in healthcare, such as treatment rooms, wards and corridors; education facilities, such as laboratories, home economics and technical study areas; and commercial buildings, such as break out areas and cafeterias.
