Spectrum Rubber Flooring

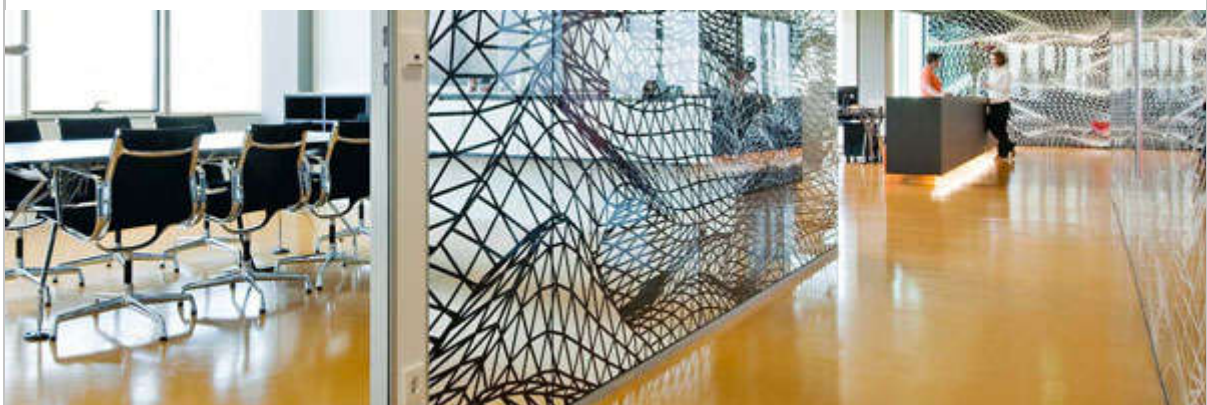

Spectrum's stud system range, based on the original Pirelli design, offers a wide chromatic and typological range satisfying different application needs, starting from the small project to high traffic areas.

Exclusive technology.

Spectrum has a range of exclusive surface finishes for its flooring, designed to offer further protection for every application.

The surface treatments guarantee an even better resistance to staining and chemical agents, considerably reducing the level of detergents, water and energy required for maintenance.

This also means even greater savings considering the excellent impact on the product's lifecycle. This innovative feature helps to protect environmental resources.
